Comment by Mrs. Nicole Dyer, Friday the 10th day of January 2020, wife of the Commissioner of Police of Trinidad and Tobago, below and my reply thereafter, same day.

"Enough people cared enough to lift their voices to have cannabis decriminalised. When would we have enough voices lifted to give women a fighting chance? I have said time and again, it's NOT the panacea to domestic and other forms of violence, but it surely should be an option! #PEPPERSPRAY."

My Reply to that Comment, today. Donald D. Berment, Housing Specialist, HSDS, NGA/DVC.

Your concern is well noted and has been so for over 3 decades by MAVAW (Men Against Violence Against Women) and 10 years by IMD (International Men's Day World Movement).

The start of the year 2020 hideous and traumatic killing of our women is new to us here and must never happen again. This year many more voices have to be raised and heard by the policy makers and a demand for more action has to be made, as nonviolent as possible.

ENOUGH IS ENOUGH. My research of 46 years plus in the Housing and Settlement Development Sector (HSDS) has highlighted poignantly, that we must engage all in the discussion of HDD and RB.

Human Developmental Dynamics and Rejection Behaviour. The areas to talk about are:-

- 1. Biological Dynamics.
- 2. Sociological Dynamics.
- 3. Psychological Dynamics.
- 4. Medical Dynamics.
- 5. Nutrition Dynamics.
- 6. Environmental Dynamics.

In 1 above you have to open the doors to the Human Biological Factors (Psychiatry and Internal Medicine) and Building Biology Factors (Science of Materials used in Buildings and the affect on its occupants).

In 6 above the doors to the Environment engage the Interior Design and Decoration Skill and the Specialist in the Housing and Settlement Development Sector. My humble addition to your pressing concern, Mrs. Dyer.

When we talk REJECTION BEHAVIOUR the two areas to focus on are

- 1. Negative Behaviour to self and others and
- 2. Positive Behaviour to self and others. Cell: 1868-383-6184. Home: 1868-637-0924.
